RESUSCITATOR HERE FOR COMMUNITY USE

Through the courtesy of the Bingham Associates Fund a resuscitator has been placed in Bethel for the use of the community in case of its need. The instrument is designed to be used either as a resuscitator, rhythmically filling the lungs with oxygen and then emptying them, or as an inhaler, allowing a victim able to breathe to get high concentrations of oxygen in order to bring about more rapid revival.

The instrument will be available through Dr. Lawrence's office for use anywhere in this vicinity when the need arises. In the event a person stops breathing, as in suffocation, drowning, electric shock or poisoning from carbon monoxide or other gases, artificial respiration should be immediately started and continued until the resuscitator can be brought to the scene. This machine does not replace the need for artificial respiration, but does add to the likelihood of survival when breathing stops as a result of accident.

DETAILS OF WOMEN'S ARMY AUXILIARY

(From the office of Senator Ralph O. Brewster)

War Department Plans

Very many inquiries have been received regarding the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Many of the inquiries are from those who are considering whether or not it is an activity in which they might desire to engage. Many others are from women and men also who are interested to know how this organization is to be related to the army and the nature of activities.

In response to inquiry the War Department has furnished the following information which it is believed may be of interest to many in Maine.

Women's Army Auxiliary Corps

Mrs. William P. Hobby of Houston, Texas, former Chief of the Women's Interests Section of the Bureau of Public Relations of the War Department, has been appointed as Director of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps.

Organization of the Corps, which was authorized when President Roosevelt signed the bill for its creation, introduced by Representative Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, will begin immediately, the Honorable Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of War, has announced.

The purpose of the Corps, the first of its kind in American military history, is to enlist women volunteers for military service with the Army to replace, and release for combat service enlisted men who are now performing certain non-combatant duties. The Corps while not a component part of the Army, is the only women's organization, except the Army Nurse Corps, authorized by law to serve with the Armed Forces. Units of the Corps may be called upon to serve in Zones of operations, as well as in the Continental United States but only in non-combat duties. It will not be used to replace Civil Service Employees now working in the War Department.

Aircraft Warning Service

Ultimately, the Corps will take over the major part of the Aircraft Warning Service, numerous Army administrative duties and whatever other suitable tasks its members can fulfill. It will be under military discipline, with uniforms and insignia, living quarters, food, and medical and dental treatment provided by the Government.

150,000 Enrollees

Under the terms of the bill, the Corps may be expanded to a total of 150,000 women, if and when necessary. General enrollment will not begin until after an Officer and Non-Commissioned Officer cadre has been trained, a matter of approximately three months. Formation of this Officer cadre will begin at once. The procedure of application and selection is as follows:

Officer candidates must be citizens of the United States, between the ages of 21 and 45. They may be married or single. They must have had at least a high school education, be in good health, and of excellent character.

Recruiting by Corps Area

In order to secure a representative group of women from the entire United States, recruiting is to be on a regional or Corps Area basis. No applications sent to Washington can be given consideration. Applications must be obtained, in person, from the local recruiting station and when properly filled out, must be returned, in person or by mail, to the appropriate main recruiting station. The women whose applications are satisfactory will then be notified as to the time and place of examinations. The applications of those

GOOD COOPERATION IN TEST BLACK OUT

The trial black out which covered the greater part of Oxford County was reported to be generally very successful, and such was the case especially in this vicinity. Around Bethel village traffic was stopped entirely at the beginning, with the auxiliary police having practically no activity. Very few lights were noted by the wardens in their patrol, although in many cases the complete black out was effected by turning out lights rather than the use of curtains.

Deputy Sheriff Hunt was much pleased with the work of the auxiliary police which were composed of the Home Guard company and others.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

As Congress settles down to the intricate task of formulating a national economic policy for wartime, it is obvious that the road ahead is a rocky one, alive with pitfalls. All are agreed that new and heavier taxes are necessary. But there is a wealth of disagreement as to just what groups should be forced to bear the bulk of the burden. And there is an equal amount of disagreement over such vital matters as wage and farm price ceilings.

The seven-point program laid down by the President in his recent message to Congress and the speech to the public which followed it provides important groundwork. Only a relatively small proportion of the nation's newspapers went on record as being 100 percent for or 100 percent opposed to that program. The bulk of them approved it with reservations. Those reservations will afford fuel for red hot Congressional debates in the weeks to come.

Here is how matters shape up at the present time:

1. Most economists agree that it will be impossible to stabilize the cost of living until very strict controls are imposed on farm prices. The President seems to share this view. But the strong Congressional farm bloc is apparently determined to fight that with all its power, and it has a good chance of coming out on top.

2. In many quarters the belief is held that it will be impossible to stabilize wages without additional legislation. The President said that he feels no such legislation is necessary. Congress will be watching labor with a careful eye, and if any widespread demands for wage boosts arise, it is likely to slap through a tough law in Jig time.

3. The proposal that tax laws be so framed that no individual can net more than $25,000 a year will probably not be adopted. However, it is also probable that upper-bracket taxes will so stiff that no one will be able to net a great deal more than that. This proposal is of little importance as a revenue producer—there aren't enough big incomes to make a visible dent in the cost of government.

4. Many are not convinced that voluntary War Bond sales will be adequate. The President intimated that forced savings plan might have to be adopted if the people don't buy more heavily. The figures on future sales will tell the story here. If purchases don't rise sharply, forced savings will be inevitable.

5. Most important of all, a great many experts of all economic and political persuasions are dead certain that a workable tax policy will have to hit the lower-income groups far harder than current proposals call for. As Time says, "One economist's estimate is that the farm and labor groups, whose 1939 income was about $45,000,000,000, will be earning at the rate of $50,000,000,000 by this year's end. Out of this $35,000,000,000 increase, the present Federal taxes and all the proposed taxes would catch only some $1,500,000,000; according to this figure, the total Federal tax bill on the $50,000,000,000 would be only $6,000,000,000. Meanwhile there is not much blood left in the rest of the turnip; businesses and business men will be earning $35,000,000,000 by year's end (up only $5,000,000,000 or so over 1939), will pay $20,000,000,000-60 percent—to the government."

This gives an idea of what Congress is up against now. Even a year ago, a sales tax would have had about as much chance of passing as the proverbial snowball would have in surviving the heat of Hades. But war is a revolutionary force, and it produces its upheavals in the legislative halls no less than on the field of battle. So a sales tax, ranging from 2 to 5 percent is a definite possibility today.

Military authorities are said to believe that Hitler has the men and the equipment for one more grand offensive. If that offensive can be beaten, they reason, the Fuehrer will be on the way to eventual defeat and disaster. That is why every effort is now being given to supplying Russia with an ever-increasing stream of the implements of war. Hitler must break Russia if he is to win his global war. The Russians seem completely confident of their power to stop him if they receive adequate equipment.

Stalin has said that American and English help has reached gratifying proportions. This year the destiny of half the world may be decided in the U. S. S. R.

May W. Dean of Disordered Kidney Action Day—Number 10

Modern life with its ceaseless hurry and driving, irregular eating habits, improved lighting and drinking, exposure, contagion, whatnot, keeps doctors busy, hospitals crowded. The after effects are disturbing to the mind and body, causing pain and suffering without knowing that disordered kidney action may cause the trouble.

After colds, fever and other illnesses there is an increase of body impurities the kidneys must filter from the blood. If the kidneys are overtaxed and unable to remove excess acid and other harmful waste, there is poisoning of the whole system.

The SNAP GETTING SH

Much of the appeal of this picture is in the foreground to the right, where the all-over sharpness is lost.

SHARPNESS in every picture, with relatively few exceptions, is extremely important to its success. I think, something we should strive to attain. And fortunately not difficult to achieve.

The way I see it, sharpness depends principally on three things: First, a steady camera; second, correct focusing; third, correct exposure. Get the first two right and you'll have trouble in your picture making.

But let's take those points one by one. First, the important matter is camera steadiness. To achieve this goal you must practice handling your camera until you are absolutely familiar with its operation. Better yet, get the tripod habit. Putting your camera on a tripod or time you take a picture, or at least resting it against a firm support, mean sharper pictures consistently.

YOUR CAR How to Get the MOST out of it

TO CHANGE OR NOT TO CHANGE

Whether to change crankcase oil and if so how often are subjects of perennial argument among motorists. Under ideal conditions oil would last a long time, although tests indicate that even then it would in time get "tired" and not do as good a job. However, conditions are never ideal. Cars are driven fast, dust and dirt get in despite filters, water condenses and mixes with the oil, gasoline leaks past the cylinders, carbon is washed down.

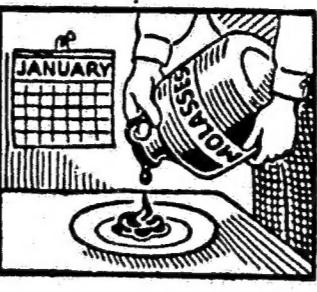

All of these things accumulate rather slowly, but they do make it necessary to change oil at reasonably regular intervals. Some things to keep in mind in connection with oil are:

A dirty filter is no better than none at all.

Heavier oil does not necessarily provide safer lubrication. Frequently, the reverse is nearer the truth. Engines today are built tighter and run faster. If oil is too heavy it will not readily flow between the closely fitted moving parts.

Don't forget to warm the engine before draining the crankcase. Cold oil is like cold molasses.

Don't worry if your car consumes a small amount of oil between changes. That's natural even with normal driving. No harm is being done even if the oil level is as much as a quart below the full mark.

"Well, I declare," said Great-Aunt Matilda, putting down her paper, a flush of excitement in her weathered cheeks. "I guess that'll show 'em!"

"Show who, what?" I inquired.

"Why the Japs and the Germans. They'd better look out. The way we're breaking records on making things every day. First it's planes. Then it's tanks and now it's ships we're building faster and better than anybody— even ourselves thought possible!"

"I know," I said. "It's really most encouraging."

"Encouraging?" Aunt Matilda snorted. "It's the most stupendous thing that ever happened. Now, I've lived a long time and seen a lot of things happen like electricity and automobiles coming in, but I never thought I'd see an unprepared country like this one catch up in about two years with a nation armed to the teeth. And that's what we're doing . . ."

"Now, Aunt Matilda," I reminded her, "we haven't caught up yet. And we won't for a good many months to come. But, of course, Japan and Germany began arming years and years ago."

"But we're upsetting schedules every day, aren't we?— and doing better even than the men at the who pass these preliminary tests will be sent on to the proper Corps and sifted by a Recruiting and Area, where they will be examined two women assistants.

Each one of the nine Corps Areas will recommend at least 80 candidates for final consideration. In addition to the recommendations made by the Corps Area, Officer Candidates will be recruited from among the volunteers who have served with the Aircraft Warning Service. The War Department will make the final selection of the approximately 450 candidates. These women will be sent to the First Officer Training School, to be located at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

Training in Iowa

Fort Des Moines is a military post in the Seventh Corps Area. The existing Induction Center and Reception Center will be moved from the post. The reservation, near the city of Des Moines, consists of 640 acres and has facilities which, with certain expansions, can accommodate 5,000 women.

The commandant of the school will be Colonel Don C. Faith, Infantry. Liaison Officer between the Corps and the War Department will be Major Harold P. Tasker, Coast Artillery Corps.

Officers

The candidates will remain at Fort Des Moines for eight weeks of intensive training, which will concentrate on leadership, administration, and military procedure. While in training the candidate will be paid $50 a month. The candidates who most successfully complete the course will be appointed officers in the Corps with rank determined by their performance in the Training Center. This group will include the Assistant Directors, all of whom will be promoted from the ranks of the commissioned officers rather than appointed. Other candidates who successfully complete this course will be given certificates of capacity for future promotion when vacancies occur. Others will remain in the service as Auxiliaries.

Auxiliaries

The first group of officers will be immediately put in charge of the training of the first unit of auxiliaries which will then, and not before then, be enrolled. The only Auxiliaries enrolled prior to the opening of the Replacement Training Center will be about 200 who will be recruited for duty as a Station Complement. After this original Officer Candidate group has been selected and trained, there will be no general recruiting for officer-candidates as such. Promotion will be from the ranks.

General recruiting for these Auxiliaries (corresponding to Privates in the Army) will commence in about three months and will be handled by the regular recruiting stations. Applicants for enrollment must meet the same requirements as to citizenship, age, excellent character, and physical fitness as the first Officer-Candidates, with the exception that they are not required to be at least high school graduates.

For the present this recruiting will be restricted to 700 per month and the majority of these Auxiliaries will be enrolled on their civilian occupational basis. All will be required to complete a basic course of four weeks. A certain percentage will, then, be selected for Specialist Schools, and, if successful will be appointed to the various Specialist grades.

Volunteers now working with the Aircraft Warning Service will be permitted to enroll as rapidly as training facilities become available. After receiving basic training they will, as a rule, be returned to their previous aircraft warning work, to continue as full time members of the Corps.

Pay and Allowances

The compensation will be as follows:

The Director will receive $3,000 a year plus subsistence allowance of 60 cents a day and $100 a month quarters allowance. The Assistant Directors will receive $2,400 a year plus the same subsistence allowance, and a quarters allowance of $80.

Officers may be appointed in the following grades:

First Officer, $166.67 per month, plus allowance of $40 per month for quarters and 60 cents per day for subsistence; Second Officer $131.25 per month, plus the same food and quarters allowances; and Third Officer at $125 per month, plus the allowances.

In the non-commissioned grades, Auxiliaries may hold the rank of First Leader at $72 per month; Leader at $60 per month; or Junior Leader, at $54 per month.

An Auxiliary will receive $21 per month for the first four months and $30 per month thereafter. They may also be graded as First Class Specialist with $15 per month in addition to base pay; Second Class Specialist with $10 per month in addition to base pay; or Third Class Specialist, $5 per month in addition to base pay.

Every member of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps will wear the appropriate uniform, insignia, and accessories supplied by the Government.

The term of service is for one year and may be extended by the Secretary of War for the duration of the war, and for not more than six months thereafter.

The Secretary of War may discharge any member for cause, disability, or for the convenience of the Government.

Upon application, members of the Corps may be given an honorable discharge in case of personal reasons of an emergency character. Each such case will be decided on its own merits.

All members of the Corps are entitled to all benefits to which civilian employees are entitled under the United States Employees' Compensation Act. Members also receive all the benefits provided by the Relief Act of 1940. Members of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Corps are entitled to 30 days' leave per year. Enrollment in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps does not cancel Civil Service status.

For further information about the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the prospective applicant is advised to consult her local recruiting station which will have the application blanks and information folders.

Applicants who have already sent applications to the War Department are advised to resubmit them to their nearest army recruiting station.

1940 — HOLLAND 1942

UP TO THE YEAR 1940, Hollanders were building a sturdy and prosperous nation on 13,500 square miles of land. With an amazing system of dykes and reclamation projects and 4,500 miles of canals, eight and one-half million people had converted their country into an engineering landmark and given it a unique and respected position among the nations of the world. Holland was a country of small farms, of famous flower nurseries, of dairy products, of chemical and shipbuilding industries. Living under a constitutional hereditary monarchy, the Dutch, together with their rich empire in the East and West Indies, had spent their income on social legislation, raising their own standard of living. Into this peaceful country, against a people who wanted to be friendly, without warning, Germans hurled the full fury of their blitzkrieg on the morning of May 10, 1940.

DUTCH cities and villages have been famous since the Middle Ages for clean, well-planned streets and homes. The Royal Palace in Amsterdam, with well-kept square, symbolized Holland's orderly civilization, before the Nazi invaders came.

MIDDLEBURG'S Town Hall was center of city's democracy for centuries. Thus, to German army leaders it became a "military objective."

WEST BETHEL UNION CHAPEL
Rev. Don Fife, Minister

The Christian Church today is called to live, and to give life, in a world shaken to its foundations. In answer to this call, the many loyal members and friends of the West Bethel Union Chapel will once again open the doors of their Church for the summer season of worship on Sunday, May 31, at 11 o'clock, and at the 7:30 evening hour. Worshippers will gather together regularly each week, seeking the presence of God, through prayer and praise, and the friendly fellowship of believers, that they might better face the tension of the times.

Rev. Don Fife, graduate of the this year received his Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree from Boston University's School of Theology, will again take up the duties and responsibilities of the West Bethel parish.

At the first morning service, next Sunday at 11 o'clock, Rev. Fife will bring a Memorial Day Message following the theme: "Memorial Living: A Living Memorial." The topic to be considered at the 7:30 evening service will be "Remember the Lord, Thy God." The youth of the community will gather in The Chapel at 10 a. m. for the opening session of the Summer Sunday School.

The best friend of mankind, the Church, is tolling out its call to the people of your community and with an eager reverence their hearts reply: "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the house of the Lord." And when worship time comes Sunday, May 31st, we shall "Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise," ever praying that the "words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts may be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, Our Strength and Our Redeemer."

THE UNITED PARISH

Canteen Suppers are in the lime light. We have just ordered our ticket for Tuesday night's supper at North Waterford, and if you are going to get in on the Lovell Supper at Number Four, you better be about it. Nor are the Canteen Suppers the only ones we are offered this week. Remember that Albany opens on Thursday night, and that is an occasion for action for starting your car in that direction, and then enjoying what the ladies set before you. Also at Center Lovell, Friday night! Quite a while since we have been to Center Lovell for supper. Well, fill your car with the neighbors and come along.

Speaking of Friday night reminds us that the North Waterford-East Stoneham Pilgrim Fellowship Group is meeting with Harvey Lord that evening. Then on Sunday evening the Lovell Group is having an out of doors meeting.
